

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE rapid growth of this Village, both in business and population, renders it very obvious that a new Directory is needed; and hence the present one, the second by the same compiler, is offered to the public. As the utility of such a work mainly depends upon its correctness, great pains have been taken to make it complete and correct. Still, there are undoubtedly some errors, for which we ask the favorable consideration of our patrons.

We have endeavored to comprise in this volume the names of all heads of families; all males of twenty-one years of age, and upwards; all persons doing business in Concord Centre Village; the names of the several streets; the officers of the different societies in this village; and such other information as is usually contained in a work of this kind.

In several of the streets which are but partly filled with buildings, the Nos. given in this Directory must be considered rather as a direction towards the place, than as indicating the exact spot. In such cases, it is recommended to omit affixing the number to the house till such street shall be more filled up, and the No. accurately ascertained. The erection of new buildings in some places where sufficient allowance was not made therefor, has rendered a change of numbers necessary; and whenever it may be deemed advisable, such street may be numbered anew by the proper authority of the town.

We would express our obligations to those gentlemen who have so generously aided in furnishing statistics for the work; and particularly to S. C. BADGER, Esq., who has rendered in the present, as well as in the former work, much valuable aid and assistance in preparing the Map and other matter for the press.

Concord, Jan. 12, 1850.

HISTORY OF CONCORD.

CONCORD, the political capital of New-Hampshire, and seat of the courts for the county of Merrimack, lies on both sides of the river of that name; but the principal village, (with which our work has immediately to do,) and the seat of most of the business of the town, comprises an extent of about two miles north and south, on the western side of the Merrimack, and back from the river about half a mile. It may not be irrelevant to bring together, in this compendious form, a few facts in regard to the place generally, which cannot be otherwise than interesting to a large proportion of those from whom the principal patronage to our little work may be expected.

The Indian name of the territory now comprising the town of Concord, was Penacook—which name it retained from its first exploration by the whites, as early as 1689. It was granted in 1725, under the name of the “Plantation of Penacook,” by Massachusetts, (who claimed jurisdiction by virtue of the grant in the royal charter of “three miles north of the river Merrimack”) to a company of settlers principally from Andover, Haverhill, and Bradford, in that State. In 1726, a committee appointed by the government of Massachusetts, with a number of the proposed settlers, proceeded to Penacook, and laid out one hundred and three home lots on the river. During this year, considerable progress was made in the settlement, about fifty persons being employed in the warm season. The building of a block-house for defence, and as a place of worship, was commenced this year, and finished the next. It was 40 feet in length, and 25 in breadth. It was located on Main street, on the spot where Mr. Nathan Stickney's brick store now stands, (No. 235.)

On the 15th of February, 1728, the first child was born—Dorcas, daughter of Edward and Dorcas Abbot. She died, Sept. 28, 1797. The first male child was Edward, son of the same parents, born Dec. 27, 1730; he died, Sept., 1801. They were born in the house now standing, No. 201, Main street, at the corner of Montgomery street, which is the oldest house but one in the town. The oldest house is that of the Rev. Mr. Walker, at the north end of Main street, lately modernized and now occupied by Joseph B. Walker, Esq. It is said to be the oldest two-story house between Haverhill, Mass., and Canada.

In 1730, the first bridge in the town was built over Suncook river; and a burial-place located and enclosed the same year.

The first legal meeting of the inhabitants was holden at the meeting-house, Jan. 11, 1732—Capt. Ebenezer Eastman moderator. At this meeting the inhabitants voted to raise £110 for the support of the ministry. At the next meeting, on the 6th of March, the inhabitants voted a bounty of 20 shillings for every wolf killed within the township; also a bounty of six pence for killing rattlesnakes, and a penny for blackbirds.

The "Plantation of Penacook," an extent of about seven miles square, was, in 1733, incorporated by the "Great and General Court of Massachusetts" by the name of Rumford, which name was given from that of a parish in England. It retained this name until June, 1765, when it was incorporated by its present name, CONCORD, by the General Court of New-Hampshire, within whose jurisdiction it had been decided to be, by order of the king in council, in 1740.

In 1739, in apprehension of an attack from the Indians, the town ordered a garrison to be built around the Rev. Mr. Walker's dwelling-house.

The first school-house was erected in 1742, "near the brook by the clay-pits," which is understood to have been about ten rods south of the Court House. About this time, the wife of Mr. Jonathan Eastman was taken prisoner by the Indians, and carried to Canada. She was redeemed and returned to her family some time after.

On Friday, Aug. 8, 1746, a party of about one hundred Indians from Canada came into town with an intention to destroy it. In expectation of their hostility, Capt. Daniel Ladd, with a company of forty men from Exeter, arrived the same day, and two other companies were already stationed here. The Indians, on discovering this, concluded to lie concealed till the Sunday following, when they determined to massacre the people assembled in the meeting-house. But the people went armed, which disappointed their intentions. One party of the Indians was concealed in a thicket of alders, then growing where the house No. 244 Main street now stands, and another in the bushes on the north, between the old North Church and Mr. Towle's house. Some of them were seen by a little girl during the exercises; but she did not make it known till the meeting closed, when the people marched out in a body, and the Indians concluded to abandon the attack. They then retired to the woods, and laid in ambush, ready to capture whoever might fall in their way.

On Monday, the 11th, seven of the inhabitants set out for Hopkinton, all armed. One of the party, (O. Peters,) having proceeded some distance forward of the others, sat down, and waited the approach of his friends. The Indians rose from their ambush, fired, and killed him on the spot. Jonathan Bradley and his party had just gained the summit of the hill; and being deceived as to the number of the Indians, he ordered his men to fire and rush down among them. The whole body of Indians then arose, being about 100 in number. Bradley now urged his men to fly; but it was too late—the work of destruction had commenced. Samuel Bradley was shot through the body, stripped of his clothing, and scalped. To Jonathan they offered “good quarter,” having been acquainted with him; but he fought with his gun against the host of enemies, until they struck him on the face repeatedly with their knives and tomahawks, and literally hewed him down, scalped and stripped him. Two others, John Bean and John Lufkin, attempting to flee, were killed at the same fire with S. Bradley. Alexander Roberts and William Stickney were made prisoners, and taken to Canada. As soon as the alarm was given, the soldiers at the garrison and several of the inhabitants repaired to the scene of slaughter. As they approached, the Indians were seen upon the retreat. The bodies were brought away, and interred in the church-yard the following day. Six of the Indians were killed, and several wounded.

On the 22d (corresponding to the 11th, O. S.) of August, 1837, a monument was erected by the descendants of Samuel Bradley to mark the spot where the massacre took place. An address was delivered on the occasion by ASA MCFARLAND, Esq. This monument stands on the north side of the road, about a mile and a half from the State House; it is a plain granite shaft, twelve feet in height, resting upon a base somewhat elevated, and contains the following inscription:—“This Monument is in memory of SAMUEL BRADLEY, JONATHAN BRADLEY, OBADIAH PETERS, JOHN BEAN, and JOHN LUFKIN, who were massacred, August 11, 1746, by the Indians. Erected 1837, by Richard Bradley, son of the Hon. John Bradley, and grandson of Samuel Bradley.”

Main street was laid out in 1785, by a committee consisting of Messrs. Benjamin Emery, Joseph Hall, John Bradley, Reuben Kimball, and Joseph Farnum.

Water communication was opened with Boston in 1815, by means of the Middlesex Canal and the Boating Company, and the first boat of the company arrived at the landing here, June 23, 1815, in 3½ days from Boston,—then considered a safe and expeditious mode of conveyance, but in 27 years to be superseded by the railroad, making its passage in as many hours as the other occupied days.

Since 1816, Concord has been the permanent seat of government. The houses in which the General Court held their sessions were the meeting-house, Judge Walker's store, in the store now occupied by W. P. Hardy, and in the town-house, on its completion in 1796, till 1819.

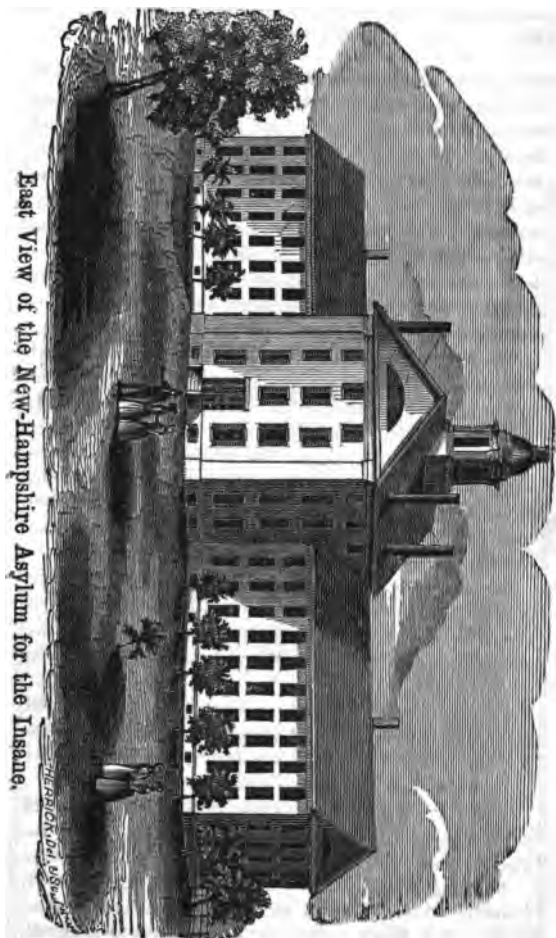

The building of the STATE HOUSE was commenced in 1816, and the legislature convened within its walls in 1819. The centre of the building is 50 feet in front by 57 in depth; the wings are each 38 feet in front by 49 in depth; the whole making a parallelogram of 126 feet in length by 49 in width, with the addition of a projection in the centre of each front of 4 feet. The outside walls are of hammered granite. The lot on which it stands contains something more than two acres, enclosed on two sides with a solid wall of hammered stone, about 5 feet high; the front fences and gates are of iron castings, with stone posts and sills. The expense of building, including the land, the fence, and the furniture of the house, amounted to $82,000.

In this building are a chamber for the Representatives, with an arched ceiling rising 30 feet from the floor; the Senate chamber, 18 feet in height; the Council chamber, and offices for the secretary and treasurer, the adjutant and attorney-generals, with a spacious room occupied as the State library.

The STATE PRISON was erected in 1812, and originally cost, with the appurtenances, about \$37,000. It is situated on State street, north of the Capitol, and is three stories high, built entirely of granite. The south wing, now used chiefly for a hospital, and for the occasional confinement of refractory convicts, is 70 feet in length, 36 wide, and the walls 3 feet in thickness. It contains 36 cells, 3 feet by 9, with the exception of six in the upper story, for the accommodation of the sick, &c., which are 10 by 17. The north wing, built in 1833, at an expense of \$17,500, and now used for the confinement of the prisoners, is a building of which the cells and exterior walls are erected on a foundation of stone, about 7 feet deep, covered with platform stone, 9 feet long, and from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 feet wide, and from 8 to 12 inches thick. The exterior building is of granite, 127 feet long, and over 37 wide. The walls are from 20 to 24 inches thick, and 25 feet from the floor to the plate of the roof, all of stone from 6 to 14 feet in length. At the distance of 8 feet from the exterior wall is the interior building, of brick, containing 120 cells, in three tiers, one above the other. In addition to which are a cook room, guard room, arsenal, and chapel. The centre of the building is a house for the accommodation of the warden, his family, guards, &c., 4 stories high. The yard is enclosed by a faced stone wall, 259 feet by 192, and 14 feet high. The salary of the warden is \$800. Present number of prisoners, (Nov. 13, 1849,) 90.

The N. H. ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE is situated on Pleasant street, upon an eminence half a mile south-west of the State House. It is a neat, but plain structure, accommodating, with all possible comfort, a very large number of patients in proportion to its cost.

The centre of the principal building is 48 by 44 feet, four stories in height above the basement, surmounted by a neat and well-proportioned cupola, from the observatory of which a highly picturesque view is commanded of the adjacent and distant scenery. Two wings, each 90 by 36 ft., extend from the centre, and two additional wings, 126 by 36 feet, are designed to extend backwards from the extreme ends of the front wings. One of these, to accommodate sixty inmates, is now (Dec. 1, 1849) nearly completed; and the other will probably soon be demanded from the large number who are applying for admission. The whole will thus form a continuous front, of a chaste and commanding appearance, 300 feet in length.

The building is of brick, partition as well as external walls included; the whole resting upon a substructure of split granite. The basement, which is partly above ground, and well lighted, is divided into commodious storage, laundry, and cooking rooms. The whole building is warmed by hot air furnaces, which, during the cold season, supply daily, to each wing, somewhat more than 6,000,000 cubic feet of fresh air heated, thus ventilating as well as warming the apartments occupied by the inmates.

Six rods westward of the main building is a neat edifice of brick, two stories in height, divided into separate apartments for the furiously insane. The whole cost of all the buildings and farm, with stock and furnishing, has been not far from $52,000.

676 insane persons have been received as inmates. Of these, 558 have left, a good proportion of whom had recovered, and 118 now remain, which is as great a number as the Institution can possibly accommodate.

Price of Board.—For the first thirteen weeks, $2.25 per week; for all subsequent time, $2.00 per week. Indigent insane persons are aided by funds given by the State.

Israel Hunt, Jun., Thomas Shannon, Amos A. Parker, Ralph Metcalf, Joseph H. Smith.

Resident Officers.—Andrew McFarland, M. D., Physician and Superintendent; Wm. B. Stevens, M. D., Assistant Physician. Friend Bailey, John G. Weare, Abram S. Tilton, Gardner Tilton, Ambrose Scribner, Josiah C. Shaw, Charles T. Lane, Andrew J. Sanborn, William A. Whidden, Miss Emeline Prescott, Miss Sarah J. Gilman, Mrs. Mary Weare, Mrs. Excelia S. Tilton, Miss Emeline Torrey, Miss Hannah Sanborn, Miss Mary Emery, Miss Eliza J. Fowler, Miss Eliza Ryan, Miss Hannah Harrington, Miss Mary Casheen, Attendants and Assistants.

Court House.

At the formation of the county of Merrimack, in 1823, the Court House, which had, till then, been used for a Town House, was then altered and repaired for the accommodation of the courts; in which state it remained until 1844, when it again underwent a thorough repair, having now one of the best and most convenient court rooms in the State.

Southerly of the Court House is the County Building, in which are kept the county records, with offices for the clerk of the courts, the register of deeds, and register of probate. It was built in 1844; is 42 by 33 feet, and two stories high. In the lower story are two rooms in front, and in the rear of each are two arched rooms, designed as safes. The second story is very similar to the lower, except that the safes are not arched. The building is considered fire proof, being constructed entirely of incombustible materials. It has been several times altered; but still the rooms and safes are like the cold and gloomy cells of our State Penitentiary, the whole having been constructed without regard to taste, comfort, or convenience, and it is in no respect such a building as the wants of the county require.

RAILROADS.

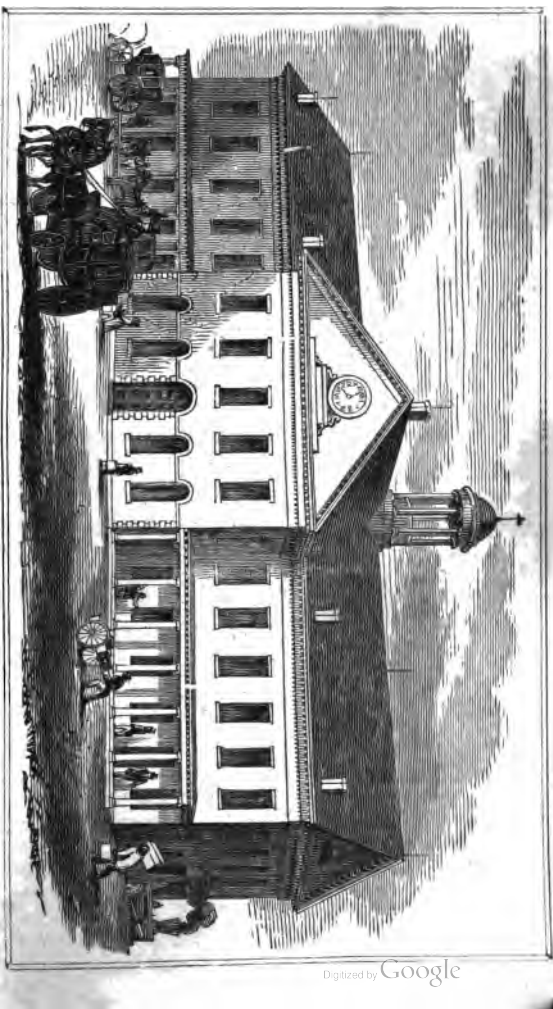

The Concord Railroad

Extends from Nashua, up the valley of the Merrimack river, to Concord. The work was completed through the entire distance, and the cars commenced running to Concord, on the 1st of September, 1842. It is $34\frac{1}{2}$ miles in length, and cost, including second track, depots, cars, locomotives, and all other expenditures, \$1,450,000. It has 77 2-5 miles of heavy rails laid, including the main tracks and turn-outs. It has been from the outset in successful operation, and has become a leading trunk-road for numerous branches connecting with the Canadas and remote sections of the Union. The number of passengers transported over the road, for the year ending April 30, 1849, was 190,701, and 164,000 tons of merchandise. The price of freight from Concord to Boston is \$3.00 for first class articles, and \$2.50 for second class. Passengers' fare, 2 cents per mile.

A large and commodious Passenger Depot, with a very spacious hall and other elegant office rooms, has been recently erected, adding largely to the beauty and appearance of the railroad property around. The engraving of this splendid edifice was executed expressly for this Directory by Mr. H. W. Herrick, of New York, formerly of Manchester.

Northern Railroad.

This road extends from Concord to Connecticut river, at West Lebanon, distant 69 miles, with a branch from Franklin to Bristol, distant 13 miles. The first section was opened in 1846, and the residue in 1847 and 1848. The capital stock amounts to $2,770,000. This is the largest thorough fare road in the state that has been constructed, extending to Northern Vermont, Western New York, and the Canadas. The transport over this road, both of freight as well as passengers, is very considerable, the cars frequently numbering over one hundred at a time. The maximum grade does not exceed 50 feet per mile. They have an engine house at Concord, 126 feet in diameter, and a repair shop, 180 feet in length by 50 in width, with a basement story, and loft over head, well equipped with the best quality of tools and machinery. They have also an engine house at Franklin, and at West Lebanon an engine house 130 feet in diameter, and a repair shop 80 by 50 feet.

Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad.

This road was chartered Dec. 27, 1844. It extends from Concord to some point on the Connecticut River between Haverhill and Littleton. Leaving Concord, the route lies on the east bank of the Merrimack, striking the Winnipisseogee River at Sanbornton Bridge; thence in the valley of that river and along the shores of its beautiful lake and extended bays and tributaries, reaching the Pemigewasset at Holderness, and passing in the valley of the latter river to Plymouth. Baker's and the Oliverian Rivers furnish a route to Haverhill, whence the road passes up the Connecticut to Woodville, opposite Wells River.

The first opening was made from Concord to Sanbornton Bridge, May 10, 1848. Other portions have been successively put in operation, and the present terminus is at Plymouth, 51 miles from Concord. A distance of 20 miles north of Plymouth, extending into the town of Warren, is under contract, and the greater portion of that distance is nearly ready for the rails. Cost to Plymouth, $1,000,000.

Passenger and merchandise trains now run daily between Concord and Plymouth.

Plymouth is distant 126 miles from Boston, 29 miles from Franconia Notch, and 51 from Fabyan's Mount Washington House; making the whole distance between Boston and Mount Washington, by this most direct route, 177 miles.

This railroad passes through that picturesque and romantic country which has appropriately been called "the Switzerland of America;" and the traveller, while comfortably seated in the cars, may feast his eyes upon the most varied aspects of lake and mountain scenery. Forming, as it does, by far the nearest and most desirable route to the White Mountains, it is a great favorite with the tourist.

Daily stages run from Union Bridge to Gilmanton Corner; from Sanbornton Bridge to New-Hampton; from Meredith Village to Centre Harbor, Conway, Fryeburg, and White Mountains; from Plymouth to Haverhill; also through the Franconia Notch to Littleton and the White Mountains. In the summer months, the steamer "Lady of the Lake" connects with the cars at the Wier's, making daily trips to Centre Harbor and Wolfborough. This road forms the nearest, most expeditious, and most desirable route to the White Mountains.

Concord and Claremont Railroad.

The charter for this road was granted in June, 1848, and a board of Directors and other officers were chosen on the 3d of August following. That part of the route from Concord to Bradford was put under contract for construction on the 19th day of October, and the grading and other work was commenced about the 1st of November of the same year. It was completed and opened to Warner, a distance of $18\frac{1}{2}$ miles, on the 20th of September, 1849, less than one year from the commencement; from that point to Bradford, it is nearly graded, and will be completed and ready for use early next spring; distance about 7 miles. A dividend of six per cent. was ordered and paid on the 1st of December, from the earnings of the road—an unusual occurrence in the building of railroads. The business upon the road, thus far, has very much exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Distance from Concord to Claremont, 50 miles.

The CONTOOCCOOK VALLEY RAILROAD enters upon the Concord and Claremont at Contoocookville, about $11\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Concord. It passes up the valley of the Contoocook River, and is built and ready for running as far as Hillsborough Bridge, about 25 miles from Concord. Perhaps this has been the cheapest constructed railroad ever made in this State—the average cost not exceeding \$10,000 per mile. This branch, with the contemplated Blackwater branch, when made, will add much to the business upon the Concord and Claremont.

Portsmouth and Concord Railroad.

Nearly half of this road is already finished, and the residue is under contract and will be completed early the next season. The cars have just commenced running from Portsmouth to Epping, $17\frac{1}{2}$ miles, and a large portion of the remaining section is nearly ready for the iron. The masonry for the bridge across Turkey Falls, near where it leaves the Concord Railroad, is finished, and the grading and masonry, as far as Suncook Village, is also nearly completed. Arrangements have been made with the Concord Road for the use of a track on their road from Merrimack River to Concord, a distance of about two miles, and for suitable depot accommodations there.

Biblical Institute.

The METHODIST BIBLICAL INSTITUTE in Concord occupies the "Old North,"* which was fitted and presented to the trustees by the generosity of the neighbors. This "school of the prophets" has a chapel, three recitation rooms, a library room, containing 1000 volumes, and fourteen dormitories. The Institution commenced its operations in April, 1847. Its number of students for 1849 is 40. Its professors are three. The trustees managing its interests are 35. Its course of study is similar to that of other theological schools in New England. Though its funds are extremely limited, no charge is made for tuition. The students have just completed a beautiful fence inclosing its grounds, which they generously performed without the smallest compensation. The Institute is steadily advancing in the course of successful experiment. J. D.

Faculty.—Rev. John Dempster, Rev. Osmon C. Baker, Rev. Stephen M. Vail.

* "The Old North Meeting-House, the venerable building still standing at the north end of Main street, [which is faithfully represented in the engraving,] was the sole building used in town for public worship for more than sixty years. The main body was erected in 1751; but it was not completed until the year 1784, by the erection of its porches and belfry 125 feet high. In 1802, the house was enlarged to its present dimensions by the addition of a semi-circle, projecting 30 feet in front, and divided into eight angles. It is believed that the timbers of this building are now as perfect as they were ninety years ago, and as capable of remaining ninety years longer, as any building in town. Its timber is heavy oak, which, when once seasoned and covered, will long remain in its full strength. For the first sixty years of the existence of this church, the comforts of a fire on the Sabbath were never introduced in the coldest of winter."—Hill's N. H. Patriot.

Methodist Biblical Institute,
Formerly the Old North Church.

New North Church.

The old meeting-house, having been occupied as a place of worship ninety-one years, and needing repairs, was, after long deliberation, reluctantly relinquished by the First Congregational Society for a new and commodious house more conveniently located for the purposes of the society. The new house, represented in the engraving, stands on the corner of Main and Washington streets. The cornerstone was laid with appropriate religious ceremonies on the 4th of July, 1842, and the house dedicated on the 23d November of the same year. Dimensions—50 feet in front, and 82 in length, with 88 pews on the lower floor, and a commodious singing gallery. In the summer of 1848, owing to the increase of the congregation, an addition of 15 feet in length was made to the house, giving 20 new pews on the lower floor. The walls and ceiling of the house were also beautifully frescoed. The whole cost of the house, including the addition, was about $8000. It is furnished with a fine organ, which cost $1200.

The First Congregational Church in Concord was organized Nov. 18, 1730, and Rev. Timothy Walker, a native of Woburn, Mass., and a graduate of Harvard College, was the same day ordained pastor. He died Sept. 1, 1782, aged 77. His ministry was 52 years. He was succeeded by Rev. Israel Evans, a native of Pennsylvania, a graduate of New Jersey College, and who had been a chaplain in the continental army under Gen. Washington. Mr. Evans was installed pastor, July 1, 1789; dismissed, July 1, 1797; and died March 9, 1807, aged 60. His ministry was 8 years. Rev. Asa McFarland, a native of Worcester, Mass., and a graduate of Dartmouth College, was ordained the third pastor, March 7, 1798; was dismissed, March 23, 1825; and died, February 18, 1827, aged 57. His ministry was 27 years. Rev. NATHANIEL BOUTON, a native of Norwalk, Conn., and a graduate of Yale College, was ordained, March 23, 1825.

Number of members.—At the organization of the church, 8; admitted by Rev. Mr. Walker, 95; by Rev. Mr. Evans, 124; by Rev. Dr. McFarland, 428; by Rev. Mr. Bouton, 618; total, 1273. The whole number of communicants now connected with the church is 260.

South Congregational Church.

Corner of Main and Pleasant Streets.

This church was organized February 1, 1837, consisting of 67 members from the First Church. The number of members, April 1, 1849, was 224.

First Pastor.—Rev. DANIEL J. NOYES was ordained May 3, 1837.

In September, 1849, Mr. Noyes, having been chosen Phillips Professor of Theology in Dartmouth College, asked a dismission, which was granted, and in October, the connection, long and happily existing between himself and the people of his charge, was dissolved by a mutual ecclesiastical council. The church and congregation are now (Dec. 1849) without a pastor.

The corner-stone of the church edifice was laid, June, 1836, and the house dedicated to the worship of God, Feb. 1, 1837. It is built of wood, with a basement of stone; is 77 feet in length, and 64 in breadth, and has 108 pews on the floor. It is furnished with a good organ and clock. In the basement of the house is a large and convenient vestry, 64 feet in length, and 36 in breadth. In front of the vestry are two rooms designed for stores. In June, 1846, a bell, weighing 1958 pounds, was procured from the foundry of Mr. Andrew Meneely, West Troy, N. Y. The whole expense of the house was about $10,000.

Corner of Main and Pleasant Streets.

First Baptist Church.

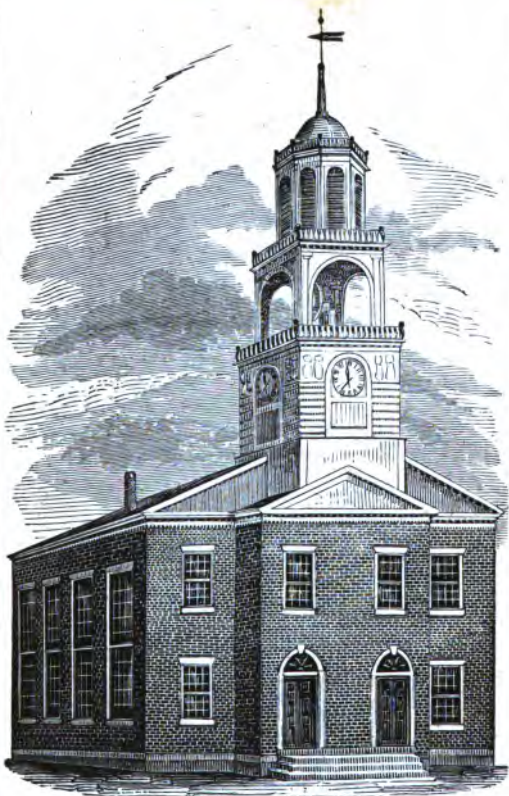

The church edifice was erected in 1825, and was opened for religious worship, January, 1826. The house stands on State street, and was originally 70 feet long, and 50 wide, containing 72 pews on the floor, and 30 in the galleries. In 1835, it was remodeled, and 8 more pews added. In 1845, the house was enlarged by the addition of 20 feet to the north end, the galleries removed, modern windows inserted, and the whole inside newly finished. The house is furnished with an excellent organ, a clock and chandelier, and is, on the whole, one of the most pleasant houses of worship in the county.

The church was constituted Oct. 8, 1818, consisting of 14 members.

Rev. William Taylor was settled as pastor of the church at its constitution, and continued in that relation until Jan., 1826, when he was succeeded by Rev. Nathaniel W. Williams. In April, 1831, Mr. W. requested a dismissal; and after being destitute of a settled minister for six months, the church invited Rev. EBENEZER E. CUMMINGS to become their pastor, and he was settled, March, 1832.

During the ministry of Rev Mr. Taylor, a period of seven years, the church admitted to its fellowship 30 members. During the ministry of Rev. Mr. Williams, a period of five years and a half, 54 were added. On the settlement of the present pastor, the church numbered 100. During his ministry, up to the present time, a period of nearly eighteen years, the number of members added has been about 600. The whole number of members, Dec. 1, 1849, was 284.

The church and society are at present in a prosperous state, and active in whatever advances the cause of morals and religion at home and abroad.

First Free-Will Baptist Society.

This society was organized Sept. 1, 1844. Their meeting-house, situated on the corner of Centre and Green streets, was built in the summer of 1846, and dedicated Dec. 12, of the same year. It is a neat little chapel, 40 by 50 feet, plainly finished, and cost over $2000.

The church, consisting of 13 members, was constituted, Dec. 8, 1844. Elder John Kimball was the first pastor, and continued till August, 1847, when he was succeeded by Elder S. T. Catlin, who remained one year and eight months. The next pastor was Elder E. S. Helme, whose brief ministry of five months was closed in a sudden manner by death, while on a visit to his friends in Newport, R. I. On Sunday morning, Oct. 7, 1849, just after entering Trinity Church in company with his sister, he died instantly of disease of the heart.

Rev. A. D. SMITH is the present pastor. The church now numbers 57 members.

Second Advent Society.

A society of believers in the near approach of the second advent of Christ upon earth, exists in this village, and hold their meetings in a small building in Spring street.

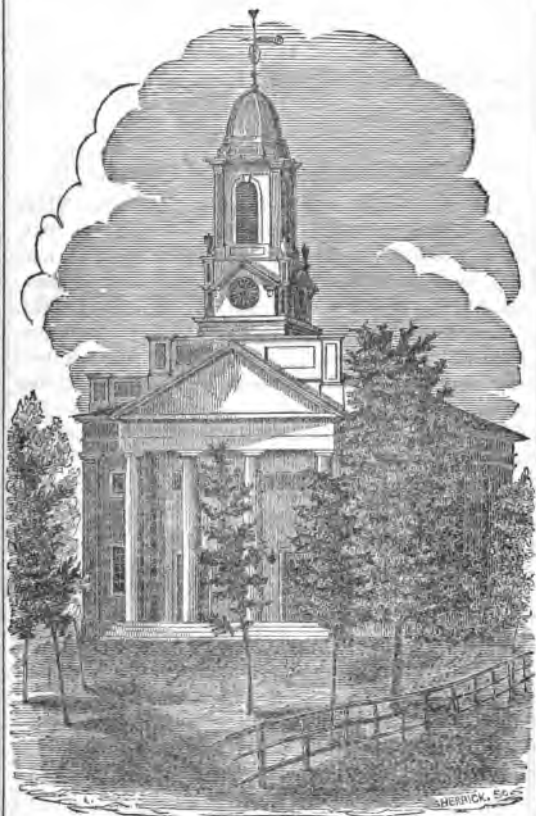

It may appear somewhat surprising, that at the present time there are those who weekly assemble to consider and promulgate a doctrine which has, in so many instances, proved false, so far as regards set times and dates; yet, unquestionably, there are many sincere and honest believers connected with this society, who are numbered among our respectable citizens.

The Unitarian Church.

"The Second Congregational Church and Society in Concord, N.H.," was instituted, April 4, 1827. Public religious services commenced in June following. The church, consisting of eight members, was constituted and recognized, February 25, 1829. From that time to the present, both church and society have steadily increased.

Nov. 22, 1828, Mr. Moses G. Thomas was invited to become the minister of the society, which invitation was accepted by him, and he was ordained, February 25, 1829. Rev. Mr. Thomas resigned the pastoral office, and his ministry in Concord closed, April 1, 1844, after fifteen years of happy and successful labor. Rev. William P. Tilden, of Norton, Mass., was soon after invited to the pastoral charge of the society. Mr. Tilden accepted the invitation, and commenced his ministry, July 1, 1844, without any formal services of installation. His connection with the society continued till May 9, 1847. On the 10th of October following, the society voted to employ Rev. John J. Putnam, of Keene, as its minister. Mr. Putnam remained till July 1, 1848. January 29, 1849, an invitation was extended to Mr. AUGUSTUS WOODBURY, of the Divinity School, Cambridge, Mass., to become the pastor of the society. Mr. Woodbury accepted the invitation, and was ordained, August 1, 1849.

The corner-stone of the meeting-house was laid with appropriate ceremonies, May 2, 1829. The house (of which the engraving is a good representation) was completed and dedicated, November 11, 1829. It stands on a beautiful common between State and Green streets; is 76 feet in length, and 50 in width, and contains 82 pews on the ground floor. The cost of the building, exclusive of the land, which was presented to the society by the late Hon. William A.

Kent, was about $6500. An excellent organ, built by the Messrs. Hook, of Boston, and a fine-toned bell, have since been added.

The Methodist Episcopal Church.

This church was organized in the year 1825. There was not, however, regular preaching until 1830. In 1831, the society erected a neat and commodious house of worship, 46 by 60 feet upon the ground, containing 66 pews, which was dedicated to the worship of God, Nov. 1, 1831.

The Methodists adopt the episcopal form of church government. But the main point of difference between them and other evangelical denominations is an itinerating ministry—hence the frequent change of ministers. The following clergymen have been stationed with this church since 1830 :—

Rev. Samuel Kelley, 1830, 1831.

“ J. G. Dow, 1832.

“ George Storrs, 1833, 1834.

“ Samuel Hoyt, 1835.

“ J. W. Mowry, 1836.

“ J. M. Fuller, 1837, 1838.

“ W. H. Hatch, 1839, 1840.

“ John Jones, 1841, 1842.

“ C. L. McCurdy, 1843, 1844.

“ C. C. Burr, 1845.

“ Ebenezer Peaslee, 1846, 1847.

“ Charles Adams, 1848.

“ ELIJAH MASON, 1849.

On the 1st December, 1849, the number in the society was 180.

St. Paul's Church.

The first meeting holden in Concord preparatory to the organization of an Episcopal Society, was on the 5th of January, 1817. A society was then formed, under the name of St. Thomas' Chapel. Rev. Charles Burroughs, of Portsmouth, was appointed rector, March 24, 1818, and occasionally officiated. Rev. Messrs. Andrus, Marshall, Searle, and others, officiated for the society a part of the time previous to April, 1821, when Rev. John L. Blake was chosen rector, and held services here and at Hopkinton, alternately, for more than two years. Mr. Blake resigned his charge in the spring of 1823. For about twelve years from this date, the services of the church were only occasionally performed.

On the 13th of July, 1835, a new society was organized under the name and style of "The Wardens and Vestry of St. Paul's Church;" and Rev. Moses B. Chase was chosen rector. Mr. Chase officiated a part of the time for about one year. In October, 1836, Rev. Petrus S. Ten Broeck was elected rector. January 1, 1840, the church, which is represented in the engraving, was consecrated by Rt. Rev. A. V. Griswold, who, on the following day, constituted Rev. P. S. Ten Broeck rector. Mr. Ten Broeck, after a useful ministry, resigned his charge in the summer of 1844, and retired to Danvers, Mass., where he deceased, Jan. 1849.

Rev. Darius R. Brewer was elected rector, Nov. 17, 1844. Mr. Brewer resigned the rectorship in the latter part of 1846, having accepted an invitation to Trinity Church, Newport, R. I. Rev. Thomas Leaver was chosen rector, Jan. 7, 1847. Mr. Leaver died, much lamented, Dec. 23, 1847. Rev. NEWTON E. MARBLE, the present incumbent, was elected to the rectorship, Feb. 27, 1848.

This parish has steadily increased in numbers and influence since the erection of the church edifice in 1840. The present number of communicants is 60.

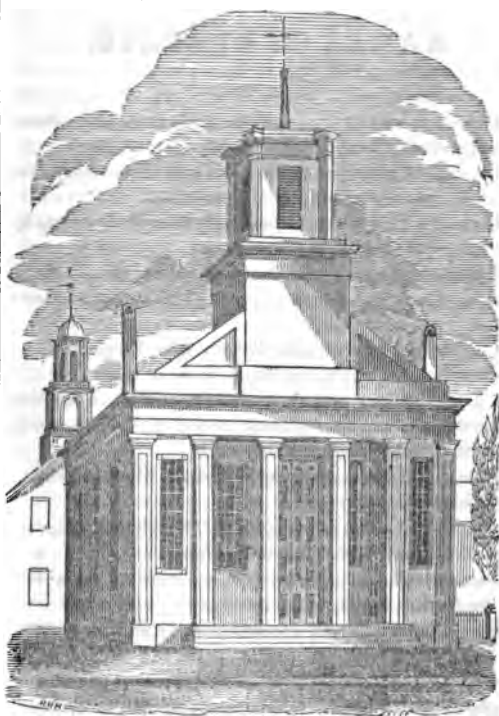

In 1803, a society of FRIENDS was gathered in this town, and a meeting-house erected by them in 1815. In 1840, the society disposed of their interest in the building, which was removed in 1847, and is now occupied as a school-house.

The Universalist Church.

This church is located on the corner of School and State streets. It was erected in the autumn of 1842, at a cost of about $4500. It contains 60 pews, a singing gallery, and vestry, and is considered a very neat and convenient house for religious worship.

The society worshipping in this house was reorganized in January, 1842, from which time until the completion of the house, its meetings were held in the Court House. There had been occasional preaching in this town for Universalists since 1820, though nothing like a vigorous effort was made for the advancement of the cause until 1841. The first pastor regularly settled over the society was Rev. William H. Ryder, who was installed Oct. 11, 1843. He was succeeded by Rev. THOMPSON BARRON in December, 1845, who retains his connection at the present time.

The society is active, united, and increasing. The following associations exist in connection with it:—Social Circle, Sabbath School, and Church. The Social Circle is composed principally of the females of the society. Its mission is to do good, and it has been very efficient. The Sabbath School numbers about 70 scholars, and has a library of about 400 volumes. The church was recognized in February, 1844, with 25 members; since which it has received several accessions. In what manner church fellowship shall be received, whether by baptism or otherwise, is entirely optional with the candidate.

Sons of Temperance.

TAHANTO DIVISION, No. 6, was instituted in this town, on the 14th of January, 1847. It now numbers about 125 members. Its regular weekly meetings are on Monday evenings, at "TAHANTO HALL," opposite the Phenix Hotel.

AURORA DIVISION, No. 12, was instituted in this town on the 18th of January, 1848. It now numbers about 175 members. Its regular weekly meetings are on Wednesday evenings, at "TEMPERANCE HALL," in Dunklee's Building. This beautiful hall has been richly and tastefully finished and furnished by the Division, and is probably the finest hall used by the Order in the State.

The Order of the Sons of Temperance has taken the place of all other active Temperance organizations in town, and it needs only to point to the many men reclaimed from the error of their ways, to the pecuniary aid it has afforded sick brothers, and to the kindness and sympathy it has extended to the suffering and afflicted, for the proofs of its efficiency and usefulness.

Officers chosen quarterly in each of the above.

I. O. O. F.

WHITE MOUNTAIN LODGE, No. 5, meets every Friday evening, at their Hall, corner of Warren and Main streets. Officers chosen semi-annually.

PENACOOK ENCAMPMENT, No. 3, meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, in the hall at the corner of Warren and Main streets. Officers chosen semi-annually.

CURRIER, DOE & CO.'S Agricultural Warehouse and Seed Store.

For past favors, the Proprietors tender many thanks. The increased demand for improved agricultural implements assures us that an establishment of this kind is needed and appreciated. We shall use our endeavors to merit an increased patronage, by making additions of all the most improved implements and machines for agricultural purposes.

Among the recent improvements, that of Crowell's Patent Thermometer Churn stands at the head. This churn will eventually take the place of all other churns in use. It is in fact the only churn made on scientific principles. The public has only to become acquainted with it to insure its general use.

TODD'S IMPROVED SEED PLANTER, the best article of the kind in use. Please call and see it.

We also manufacture extensively

Doe's Celebrated Ploughs.

Mr. Doe, having become one of the firm, will personally superintend the manufactory. His experience for more than twenty years as a manufacturer and practical farmer, together with the high reputation these Ploughs have acquired in all places where they have been introduced, warrants us in believing that we offer to the public the best Ploughs in New-England.
